

PHARMACY FACULTY SURVEY
SUMMARY REPORT - 2012

The Faculty Survey was available for online access in the AACP Centralized Survey System on March 5, 2012. As of July 2012, 92 out of 127 (72.4%) colleges and schools of pharmacy administered the survey to their faculty. Four thousand, four hundred and thirty-five (4,435) faculty were invited to complete the survey. Three thousand, one hundred and sixty-eight (3,168) faculty submitted the survey for a total response rate of over seventy-one percent (71.4%). Response rates per school ranged from 21.5 percent to 100.0 percent. For more information regarding this summary report or the administration of the survey, please contact Danielle Taylor, research manager (dtaylor@aacp.org).

Total number of schools: 92 (40 public, 52 private)

Total number of responses: 3,168

SECTION I: Administrative System

Indicate the degree to which you agree or disagree with these statements.

	Strongly Agree	Agree	Disagree	Strongly Disagree	Unable to Comment
1. The college/school's administrators (e.g. Dean, Associate/Assistant Dean, Department Chair, Program Directors) have clearly defined responsibilities.	32.1% (1017)	53.3% (1690)	8.7% (276)	2.3% (73)	3.5% (112)

Section I: Administrative Systems

This section seeks the perspectives of faculty members on administrative processes. Overall, nearly eighty percent (79.7%) of faculty members felt the college or school administration was effective in responding to faculty needs, allowing an opportunity for evaluative feedback, functioning as a team, and dealing with harrassment and discrimination.

I am aware of policies for dealing with harassment and discrimination

The statement that received the highest level of agreement among faculty members (95.4%) regarded the awareness of college/school policies for dealing with harrassment and discrimination.

Section II: Recruitment and Retention

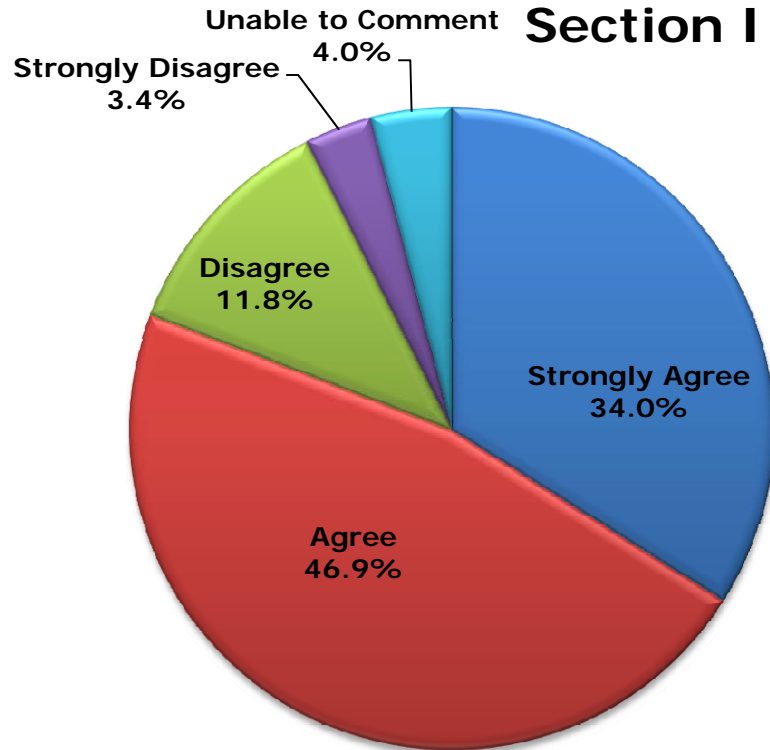

Over seventy-eight percent (78.4%) of faculty members were in agreement that their schools and colleges of pharmacy were adequately recruiting and retaining faculty.

My allocation of effort has been clearly stated.

Over twenty percent (20.2%) of faculty members disagreed regarding clear statement of their allocation of effort.

Section III: Infrastructure

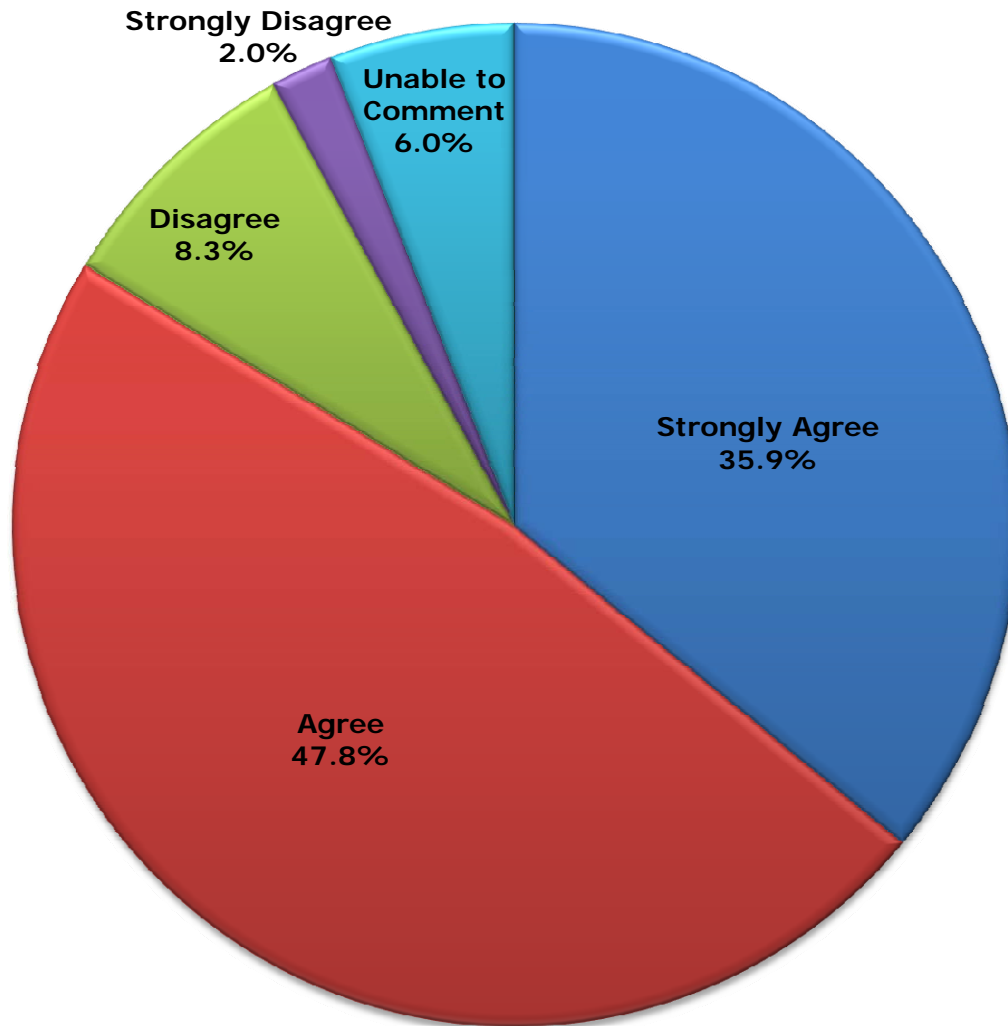

Nearly eighty-one percent (80.9%) of faculty members agreed or strongly agreed that they were satisfied with the statements in this section involving staff resources, facilities, and infrastructure. However, the statement that received the highest level of disagreement regarded qualified faculty. Over twenty-seven (27.3%) percent of faculty disagreed or strongly disagreed that the college/school has a sufficient number of qualified faculty.

The college/school has a sufficient number of qualified faculty

Section IV: Role and Governance

Nearly eighty-four percent (83.7%) of faculty members agreed with statements regarding effective strategic planning and faculty input during the development of a strategic plan.

Section V: Faculty Development

Over sixty-eight percent (68.3%) of faculty members were satisfied with the amount of career guidance, programs, and funds available for faculty development.

Improving teaching and facilitating student learning

The statement with the highest agreement was regarding improving teaching and facilitating student learning. Over eighty-six percent (86.4%) of faculty agreed or strongly agreed programs were made available that improved their teaching and facilitated student learning.

Section VI: Curriculum, Teaching, and Assessment

Overall, faculty members were in agreement with the curriculum, teaching, and assessment statements. However, the statements regarding curriculum received the most positive responses. Nearly ninety-three percent (92.6%) of faculty either agreed or strongly agreed that they understand how their instructional content fits into the curriculum. The statement regarding preparing student in informatics received highest level of disagreement. While sixteen percent (16.0%) were unable to comment, over twelve percent (12.3%) disagreed or strongly disagreed that the Pharm.D. program prepares students to demonstrate expertise in the area of informatics (resources, devices, and methods required to optimize the acquisition, storage, retrieval, and use of information in pharmacy and healthcare).

Section VII: Developing and Supervising Students

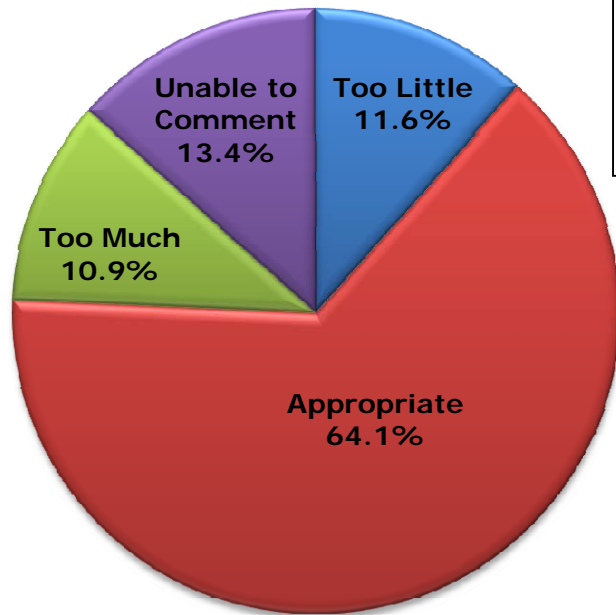

Seventy-nine percent (79.0%) of faculty members agreed or strongly agreed that their college/school promoted professional behavior, managed academic and professional misconduct, and managed poor academic performance.

The college/school provides an environment and culture that promotes professional behavior

Nearly ninety-one percent (90.7%) of faculty members agreed or strongly agreed with the statement that their college/school provides an environment and culture that promotes professional behavior among students, faculty, administrators, and staff.

Section VIII: Academic Roles

Overall, over sixty-four percent (64.1%) of faculty members felt that the time they spend on teaching, research, service, and clinical service is appropriate.

Over seventy-eight percent (78.4%) of members reported that time they spent on teaching was appropriate.

The proportion of my time spend on teaching is:
